

WHO AM I?

“Who Am I?” – The
Question that lingers,
In all our Minds,
The answer we could never Find,
We put ourselves in a Bind;
Making us Blind!

I have always been Around,
Sharing all your Joy and Sorrow;
That none could ever Borrow!
Wiping away your tears;
Making the Path Clear!
Alas! What a Fair-weather friend you are!
Seeking Me Only when you Fear!

Conventional wisdom demands Prosperity;
Goes off the boil, when you focus upon Eternity!
Conflicts of Facts and Fictions – Yet
You had the Courage of Convictions!
Often, I had to pick a bone;
Haven’t Set that in Stone;
For the Endurance you had;
Blissful Ignorance I Bestowed!

Impeccable I am – Yet
Inseparable We Are!

Believers claim my Benevolence;
Critics believe I am Extinct;
Science calls me Instinct;
I reside in your Conscience – Together
We could make Better Sense!
Not an Awful Lot you know – Yet
'I' Speak to you through many ways...
Grateful I feel – For
You made me realize...
This is “ME”
And this is All ... ME!!!

By,
Anusha Krishnaswamy